Something to think about

“Luck is what happens when preparation meets opportunity.” – Seneca

Year 10 - Don't know what you want to do or what subjects to choose for senior studies?

Are you struggling when thinking about what you want to do when you first leave school or don't have answers for all those questions about subjects, jobs, life after school? Options Talking Careers will help. It's a series of videos and short activities that will help you find out about yourself, life, your values, strengths and interests. It comes with a career interest test that will get your research started. Click here to find out more.

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Australian Apprenticeship Readiness Quiz

Australian Apprenticeship Readiness Quiz, found on the Australian Apprenticeships website, shows some of the key learning standards required to start an Australian Apprenticeship. The quiz is 10 questions long and should take approximately 10 minutes to complete. You should use a calculator to assist you. Click here to start the quiz.

Changes to Australian Apprenticeships from 1 July

From 1 July 2024, the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations is engaging Australian Apprenticeship Service Delivery Providers (Providers) to deliver focused help that better supports apprentices and their employers from before the apprenticeship starts to its successful end. Providers will work with apprentices and employers from before an apprenticeship starts to identify individual needs, help apprentices to find the right pathway and support employers to better understand their roles and responsibilities in the workplace. Providers will also provide support throughout the apprenticeship. Click here to read more about:

- What is changing from 1 July 2024?

In Year 12 - it's time to start looking for that job after school

It is sometimes challenging to work out where to start looking for an actual apprenticeship or traineeship. The Queensland Government's Find an apprenticeship or traineeship website is a good place to start. While it won't find you an employer to hire you, it will give you some ideas for looking for a potential employer including:

- Visit specific apprenticeship/traineeship job boards
- Use job search and government vacancies websites by entering a job title with 'apprentice' or 'trainee' and your chosen industry to narrow down results
- Talk with training organisations, local TAFEs and Australian Apprenticeship Support Network providers

Click on the link above which will take you to valuable links and valuable information.

MEGT online Job Board

MEGT provide employment and training options for school students and school leavers. They have an online Job Board listing school-based apprentice and trainee opportunities. Check it out and see your Career Counsellor/Guidance Officer/VET coordinator if you have any questions.

How do I apply for the Defence Force?

The ADF recruitment process is designed to ensure you have the qualities needed, while helping you identify the ideal role in the Navy, Army or Air Force. Visit the Defence Recruitment website to find out if you are eligible to join and to access the six steps in the recruitment process. Each step has a video that explains what happens during the step. The six steps are:

1. Apply online
2. Complete a Job Opportunities Assessment
3. Attend your YOU Session (Your Opportunities Unlimited Session)
4. Attend assessment and Officer Selection (if you are wanting this pathway)
5. Take a Fitness Test
6. Attend Enlistment and Appointment day

On the site you will also find information videos that will answer many of your questions, along with information on:

- Do I need written references of just listed references on my application?
- When do ADFA applications close?
- What happens after I submit my application?
- Is the application process the same for Officer entry and General entry?
- My application is due soon, but I don't have all the required paperwork. What should I do?

What is a Vocational Education and Training (VET) qualification?

The National Careers Institute says that a vocational education and training (VET) qualification is a formal certification awarded by a training provider in recognition of the successful completion of an occupational or work-related knowledge and skills-based educational program. There are eight types of VET qualifications:

- Certificate I, II, III and IV
- Diploma
- Advanced Diploma
- Graduate Certificate
- Graduate Diploma.

All VET qualifications must be listed on the National Register, training.gov.au. Visit the Australian Qualifications Framework website for more information regarding VET qualifications.

What types of institutions can I study at?

There's a lot to think about when you decide on tertiary study, such as which course interests you and which study mode will best fit your lifestyle, just to name a couple. Most important, is choosing the type of education provider. Each institution is unique and you can be certain that each will deliver your chosen course in a different way and with a distinctive flavour. Click here to find out more, including the types of tertiary institutions and how to choose an institution and campus.

Do you have what employers are looking for?

JobJumpstart reports that the Australian Government surveyed more than 3000 Australian employers to find out what advice they would give to young people looking for a job. Employers said they look for:

- a positive attitude
- motivation and enthusiasm
- someone who is prepared to learn and take direction.

They also said that applicants need to:

- be punctual and dependable
- be respectful to colleagues and customers
- show a commitment to staying in the job for an acceptable period of time.

Employers also mentioned that some young people have unrealistic expectations of work, including:

- being unprepared for the demands of the workplace
- the level of pay they would receive
- wanting to start at the top instead of working their way up.

Give yourself a rating so you can keep up the good work and/or work on the areas where you can improve and be job ready!

Getting value from work experience

Lack of workplace experience can be a big barrier for you getting a job. You can build your workplace experience through paid work, work experience or volunteer work. Good quality work experience can help you:

- learn about the world of work and understand the day-to-day realities of working in a particular job
- understand what employers look for in workers
- challenge your ideas about careers in particular roles
- work out whether you are suited to a particular job
- build and demonstrate your technical and employability skills and
- increase your professional networks, including finding possible referees for future job applications

Click here to read Job Jumpstart's top tips for getting the most out of work experience.

Impress employers with your online profile

When you are applying for a job, employers will check your online profile to:

- confirm that what you've said about yourself in your application fits what you show online
- understand your interests, abilities and attitude to life
- find out if you have an existing network of professional contacts.

Using social media in a positive and constructive way can actually help you get a job. Your passion for a good cause, your love of music or your entertaining blog all say something about you and what you have to offer. Click here to check out Job Jumpstart's article on managing your online profile including how to protect your online profile and tools that can help you do so.

The green transition requires an upskilled workforce

There is no doubt that steps to move towards new sources of energy and a move away from fossil fuels, combined with advances in AI that will impact all our daily lives, will be the next major transformations shaping the future of work. This convergence of huge shifts creates greater urgency to reskill and upskill people for growth jobs and to help people overcome fear and polarization as they struggle to see where their skills fit in a world that will undoubtedly become greener and more digital.

The World Economic Forum reports that from previous workforce transformations, new jobs will be created as transformation gains pace. Yet, we also know that ensuring people can see where their skills fit will be critical to bridging the skills gap that is already emerging. Click here to read their article in full especially if you are looking for a career direction with massive growth.

What workers want from their job

The annual survey of more than 14,700 respondents looking to change jobs in the next two years reveals work-life balance remains the top priority for job hunters (15.4 per cent importance score), followed closely by salary compensation (13.9 per cent). Working environment (11.5), management and management quality (10.1) and career and development (9.4) rounded out the top five overall drivers of workplace attraction. What's the difference between a Registered Nurse, an Enrolled Nurse and a Midwife?

Registered nurses (RN) assess, plan, provide and evaluate preventative, curative and rehabilitative care for patients and supervise other nursing staff. They work in a wide variety of settings such as hospitals, aged care and other health care facilities and private medical practices. To become a RN, you need to complete a three-year Bachelor of Nursing at a university or other accredited institute of higher education. RNs are required to be registered with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency: Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia. You can obtain more information about this occupation from the myfuture website (you will need to Log in or Sign up to enter this free site) and the Good Universities Guide website (this site has a list of nursing specialisations).

Enrolled Nurses (EN) under the direction and supervision of Registered Nurses, assist with the provision of acute, preventative, curative, rehabilitative and the day-to-day personal nursing care of patients. They work in hospitals, aged-care facilities, the community and other healthcare settings. To become an EN in Australia, the minimum level of study is the Diploma of Nursing (18 months – 2 years), delivered through TAFE or an accredited private Registered Training Organisation. After graduation, ENs apply for registration with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency: Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia to practice as an Enrolled nurse. You can obtain more information about this occupation from the myfuture website (you will need to log in or Sign up to enter this free site) and the Good Universities Guide website.

Midwives provide care and advice to women during pregnancy, labour and childbirth and postnatal care for women and babies in a range of settings such as the home, community, hospitals, clinics and health units. They are also known as a Certified Midwife or Registered Midwife and can specialise as a Community Midwife and/or Midwife Practitioner. A bachelor degree in midwifery is needed to work as a Midwife. Some Midwives complete postgraduate studies. Midwives are required to be registered with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency: Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia. You can obtain more information about this occupation from the Labour Market Insights and the Good Universities Guide website.

Some questions to ask if you are thinking about a gap year

At the end of school you may be wondering if going straight to uni or other tertiary study is right for you. A gap year could mean working, volunteering, doing a program with the Australian Defence Force or travelling. Despite what some assume, it is not a year of doing nothing or slacking off. Nor is it an indication you won't return to further study. Click here to read some things to consider if you are thinking about a gap year including:

- Buzzing farewell: Final weeks to visit Insect Agency
- Explosive school holiday fun!
- Recognising Queensland's outstanding women in STEM

Use the school holidays wisely - Work experience and/or exploration may be a good option

An important strategy in career exploration is experiencing the job you are interested in. This can be undertaken in many ways:

- Work observation – spending a day or more with someone already in the job at their workplace
- Career interview – developing a list of questions and interviewing someone already in a job you are investigating
- Work experience – spending some time (a week if possible) in the job
- Investigating courses by visiting institutions and talking to them about their courses
- Getting a part-time job or volunteering in a job you are interested in
- Doing a course or workshop that relates to the type of work you want to do.

The school holidays are a perfect time to do some of these activities. If you need help organising an activity, speak to your school Guidance Officer/Counsellor/VET Coordinator for some assistance.

Interstate and International

Applying for courses interstate

Term 3 is very important and busy for Year 12 students. If you haven't already decided what you are going to do in 2025, this is the time to access information about your options. The following is a selection of events and activities that will assist you with your decision-making.

QTAC Guide – You will receive your QTAC Guide early in Term 3 or you can access/download it off the QTAC website. It contains information about the application process and the courses you can apply for in 2025. Don't lose this book as you may need it after you leave school to change course preferences on your QTAC application when Year 12 results are released and during QTAC offer rounds. You need to regularly check the QTAC website to ensure the information is up to date as information can change throughout the year.

Institution open days - Most of the University open days occur in Term 3. Open days provide an opportunity to learn more about the institutions and courses you are interested in. Attend the Open Days and be prepared with questions for the representatives. See Open day dates on the QTAC website and in the Open Day and Career Expos section of the fortnightly Bulletins.

QTAC applications open - QTAC applications for Semester 1 2025 courses open on 1 August. Closing dates for some courses and some scholarship applications can vary so read your QTAC book carefully. You can find information about the application process and offer process in the guide and on the QTAC website.

ATAR application portal - You need to apply to QTAC to get your ATAR calculated by them. The ATAR portal opens on 1 August. You will need your LUI number (Learning Unique Identifier)

Scholarships - Most university scholarship applications open in Term 3 and close in October, November or December. An exception is Bond University, which has its scholarship applications open now and each scholarship can have a different closing date. It is best to check the closing date on the Bond website under each scholarship entry. Every university has a scholarship section on its website. Find out the application process and due date early, to avoid missing out on a scholarship. If in doubt about your chances, apply anyway.

Year 12 post school information management

If you are in Year 12 you should start a folder of information you will need later in the year and early next year. Keep it in your room and add to it during the year. Items that could be placed in this folder include:

- Learning Unique Identifier (LUI) number and password for your Learning Account so you can access your Year 12 results early. You will also be required to know your LUI to complete your QTAC application.
- Tax File Number (TFN), which you will need when applying for a HELP loan next year. You also need a TFN if you want to be paid for a full-time or part-time job.
- Unique Student Identifier (USI) A USI is your individual education number for life. Without one, you can't get Commonwealth financial assistance or your qualification or statement of attainment.
- The QTAC Guide, which you will receive in June or can access online at QTAC website.
- Course, job and tertiary entry information you gather at career markets/expos, institution open days, TSXPO, etc.
- The list of courses you are considering (if you haven't a clue, make an appointment to see your Guidance Counsellor/Officer ASAP!!).
- If thinking about Uni, a list of Pathway and Early Offer schemes for the university/ies you are interested in studying at
- Handouts on tertiary entry you are given at Year 12 assemblies, expos and lunchtime talks.
- Information about available scholarships and tips for submitting a great application.
- Additional qualifications you might wish to submit as part of your QTAC application and/or portfolio particularly if applying for EAS
- Any other information related to your plans for 2024.

Study Skills and Wellbeing

Exam stress and top tips to de-stress

The following tips are adapted from an article from the University of Queensland's Health Hub. It is difficult to avoid the worry of exams, looming deadlines and challenging expectations (our own and other's). Everybody deals with stress differently, so it is important to recognise your own signs and take control before they control you. The following behaviours can be signs of stress.

- Irregular sleep patterns
- Short temper and irritability
- That gut feeling (butterflies)
- Finding it difficult to relax or unwind
- Overreacting to situations
- Comfort food snacking or loss of appetite

If you are experiencing one, many, or all of these signs, you need to do something about it to help you handle the demands you face. Click here to read more about the following tips:

- Set the tone for your day
- Create a schedule
- Divide your day up
- Take a break
- Turn your phone off in study period
- Eat for your brain
- Use your nerves, don't let them use you
- Shake it off
- Warn your loved ones
- Prioritise your study

If you continue to experience any of the above symptoms or do not feel well and happy in yourself, definitely ask for support from your Guidance Officer, School Counsellor, your family doctor, parents/guardians. Smart thinkers know when a little bit of help can really make the difference :)

Something to think about

Learning is the first essential skill to achieve any change. Learn to ask more patient questions, not only of other people and situations, but also of yourself. Learn how to seek out, hunt down and dig deeper for even better answers. There are rarely right and wrong answers to life's bigger questions, there are only ideas and solutions that are more useful or helpful than the others.

Why I make time for exercise and why you should too!

Zoe Harrison, a UQ student has written about the value of exercise. She says, “we can get so busy we don’t know which way is up. Attending lectures and classes, maintaining a social life and working while studying can be a difficult juggling act! With so much going on it’s easy to throw in the towel on making time for exercise”. She then talks about what motivates her to exercise including:

- It keeps my brain and mind healthy
- It keeps my body healthy
- It is a good way to relieve stress
- How to overcome common obstacles to exercising

Check out her article here as you may get some life changing ideas to stay fit, healthy, happy and successful.

Why learn? Something to ponder ...

Learning is the first essential skill to achieve any change. Think about:

- Learning to ask more patient questions, not only of other people and situations, but also of yourself.
- Learning how to seek out, hunt down and dig deeper for even better answers. There are rarely right and wrong answers to life's bigger questions, there are only ideas and solutions that are more useful and helpful than others.
- Always seeking out more knowledge. (Unknown author)

Learning how to learn in all situations opens many doors that you have never thought of or imagined available to you.

You're not alone

Balancing the demands of school studies and your home life can sometimes be a challenge, but it’s important to remember you’re not alone. The World Health Organisation notes that good mental health is when ‘a state of wellbeing in which the individual realises his or her own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to make a contribution to his or her community’. In the same way we can experience physical illness, we can also experience mental illness.

According to Queensland Health, mental health can affect your thinking, emotional stability and social life. It can also impact your ability to work, study, carry out daily tasks and your relationships. Which is the best university?

All Australian universities offer accredited courses that can lead to employment. Consequently, the better question is 'Which is the best university for me?' Consider the following when researching universities.

- Is the course offered at this university a pathway to the job I eventually want?
- Where is this university located? Can I realistically travel there? What are the transport options?
- Will the university help me gain work experience in my career area of interest while I do the course?
- How hard is it to get into this course at this university?
- Are the courses at this university full-fee or are they subsidised by the Commonwealth Government and eligible for HECS-HELP?
- If the courses are full-fee, is the institution accredited for FEE-HELP?
- Where do students of this course at this university go after they graduate?
- What support services are available at this university?
- What co-curricular activities (sport, clubs, etc.) are available at this university?
- What is the 'atmosphere' or working and social environment of the university like?
- Is it important to me to go to the same university as my friends?
- Does the university offer overseas study options?

These websites can help you with your research.

- QILT (Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching) can help you compare study experience and employment outcomes data from Australian higher education institutions to select the institution with all the qualities you want.
- The Good Universities Guide has a course and institution search function and information on careers and scholarships. It also has a rating section for all Australian universities.
- Study Assist provides information on Australian Government financial assistance for further study
- Course Seeker - Thousands of on-campus and online courses across Australia

Other sources of information are:

- Open days and career expos – access information from the Options Career Information bulletins and the Open days and expos page on the QTAC website. Term 3 is big for open days and check if they are being held live, virtually or both.
- University brochures – obtain these at open days, career expos and university websites
- University websites
- Current students at the university (you will have access to these students at open days).

Central Queensland University

Assistance schemes

Assistance Schemes allocate adjustment factors/tertiary rank points to eligible QTAC applicants. The adjustment factors are additional points that may be used in combination with your Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) or your Tertiary Rank, to increase your competitive Selection Rank. Adjustments do not change your ATAR but change your Selection Rank for a particular course or courses. CQU have 4 different types of adjustment factors:

- Equity adjustment: Adjustment available on the basis of characteristics associated with disadvantage.
- Regional Adjustment Factor Scheme: Adjustment available on the basis of the applicant's proximity to the institution offering the course.
- CM17 Bachelor of Medical Science (Pathway to Medicine) - Subject Incentive Scheme
- CM17 Bachelor of Medical Science (Pathway to Medicine) - Rural Access Scheme
- Overall adjustments are capped at a maximum of 10 ATAR positions or 10 selection rank improvements from these schemes. Please note the total adjustments an applicant is eligible to receive for CM17 Bachelor of Medical Science \(Pathway to Medicine\) is capped at 5 ATAR positions or 5 selection rank improvements for all eligible adjustment schemes.

Click here for more information regarding CQUni's assistance schemes.

Certificate, diploma and undergraduate courses available at CQU

CQUniversity offers a wide range of certificate, diploma and undergraduate courses. Click here to find a list of degrees and TAFE courses they offer along with study timetables and information on how to apply.

Student Accommodation

Student on-campus residences are available at CQUni Mackay and Rockhampton. Off-campus accommodation options are also available. If you need to move to attend university, organising suitable accommodation is key to a smooth transition from school/home to university/independent living. Click here for more information.

Griffith University

Adjustment Factors - they may help

Griffith University offers a range of adjustment factors on the basis of subjects, location, equity and sporting achievements.

- The Year 12 subject adjustment for current Year 12's, offers up to 6 adjustments (2.00 adjustments per subject/course) for a broad range of Senior subjects and up to 4 adjustments for university studies completed as part of the GUESTS program.
- The Gold Coast and Logan Campus Priority Access Scheme improves access to programs offered at Gold Coast and Logan campuses. Applicants who are new to tertiary study and live within the listed catchment areas are eligible for 2.00 adjustments.
- Nathan, Mt Gravatt and South Bank Community Engagement improves your competitiveness if you are new to tertiary study and a resident of the Brisbane, Logan, Ipswich or Redlands area, as you may be eligible for two (2.00) location adjustments when you apply for programs at the Nathan, Mt Gravatt or South Bank campuses.
- The Educational Access Scheme is for School Leavers who have experienced financial and/or educational disadvantage. Max of 8.00 adjustments.
- Elite Athlete Adjustment recognises the challenges and impacts that sporting commitments can have on the completion of their studies. You can apply for adjustment factors as part of your QTAC application, with up to 6.00 selection ranks able to be applied to your ATAR/selection rank.
- Incremental Adjustments for the Bachelor of Medical Science

Please Note:

- Maximum adjustments that you can receive under all schemes is capped at 8.00.
- You do not need to apply separately – this is part of the QTAC application.
- Some exclusions apply – refer to website for further details as each scheme outlines the degrees that are excluded from the program.

Griffith Film School Portfolio Application Webinar

Admission to the Bachelor of Animation and the Bachelor of Film and Screen Media Production is via portfolio and interview. There are two admission pathways to the Bachelor of Games Design: portfolio or ATAR/rank. For more information join Griffith Uni's webinar on 16 July between 5 and 5pm and find out more about the portfolio requirements, tips for success and the earlier application timeline. After the short presentation there will be a live Q&A with their creative arts staff and specialists in admissions. Prepare for the webinar by learning more at the Griffith Film School portfolio admissions webpage. Click here for more information and to register.

Trimester 2 Head Start applications

Year 11 and 12 students who wish to make a start on their university studies in the Head Start program can apply now. You can choose to study one subject through the Head Start On Campus or Online program. Applications close soon so check it out and talk with your parents and Guidance Officer/School Counsellor.

Using VET and other alternative qualifications for competitive entry to Griffith University

Griffith accepts standalone VET qualifications from current Year 12 and mature applicants and acknowledges that they are a highly effective pathway to university. Students with a VET qualification completed at high school will continue to be considered for admission whether or not they are ATAR-eligible. QTAC will consider your VET qualification in conjunction with other senior subjects or as a standalone qualification when you are applying for entry into Griffith courses. VET qualifications for entry into certain Griffith courses/programs will not be considered, so check the link for more information.

The University of Queensland

ATAR Guarantee

UQ is again offering guaranteed ATAR entry thresholds across most programs in 2025. This means you may be able to secure an early position in a UQ program based on your ATAR without the anxious wait for an acceptance letter. You will need to:

1. Select a UQ program as your first QTAC preference.
2. Meet or exceed the guaranteed ATAR threshold
3. Subject prerequisites must be met

Programs not included in the scheme are:

- dentistry
- Medicine
- Physiotherapy
- Veterinary science
- Western civilisation

Click here to read more about the programs/degrees in the scheme.

Accommodation options

Finding the right place to live is a big part of settling into student life. With options available both on and off campus, UQ Services can help you find your new home. If you're a new regional, interstate or international student, they can guarantee you a place at one of their approved accommodation providers or residential colleges before you arrive in Brisbane. It's never too early to learn more about guaranteed accommodation. Residential options include On-campus and off-campus and an under 18 supervision program. Find out more here.

An alternative to a gap year

UQ have put together a guide where you can find out how you can take your studies overseas on an exchange or short-term study abroad experience. Check out Internships and global experiences guide for more information, countries you can study in and courses that have this option incorporated into their course structure.

Campus tours

UQ offer several different ways you can undertake a campus tour:

1. Virtual tours - If you can't make it to campus, you can always explore UQ from home.
2. Self-Guided tours - Download the UQ Maps app from Apple store or Android store and explore the campuses at a pace that suits you.

Engineering, design and computing careers evening

Years 9-12 students will gain insights from recent graduates, networking opportunities with industry professionals and information on study options at UQ. You will learn about diverse career paths and the importance of personal branding and resilience. This information session will be held on 18 July, from 6-8pm in the Advanced Engineering Building #49, UQ St Lucia campus. Click here to find out more and to register.

Glossary of terms

Choosing to go to university is a big decision but it can bring up a whole lot of questions. Guaranteed accommodation

UQ offers guaranteed accommodation for all commencing students enrolled at St Lucia or Herston campuses. Guaranteed accommodation helps UQ students secure accommodation at select providers which reserve a number of rooms so students can easily compare, choose and apply for accommodation. Offers of accommodation are made by Residential Colleges (on campus) and Approved Providers (off campus). Click here to find out more about these options.

Provisional entry for the Doctor of Medicine (MD)

Applicants are now selected for all offers using a merit order rank which is derived by:

- percentile rank in the MMI (Multi-mini interview) = 50%
- percentile rank in the UCAT = 25%
- percentile rank in the Adjusted ATAR = 25%

This rank was derived by QTAC across these applicants who met the ATAR better or equal to an ATAR 95.00 threshold

- Lowest UCAT and the lowest adjusted ATAR to receive a full offer UCAT aggregate
2660 Adjusted ATAR 95.50
- Median Ucat and median adjusted ATAR to receive a full offer UCAT aggregate
3250 Adjusted ATAR 99.50

University of New England

Early Entry Offer

UNE Early Entry is open to all Year 12 applicants, whether or not you're expecting to receive an ATAR. Early Entry relies on your school's assessment of your attributes and abilities, your ability to work and learn independently and your overall potential for academic success. Based on your school's recommendation, UNE will guarantee you an offer to start with them in 2025 but if you are not eligible for one of your preferences, you will receive an offer for an alternative course. Click here for more information and application process. Check with the University for Early Entry applications closing date.

Residential Colleges

UNE's Residential Colleges provide more than shelter, food and friendship. Finding the balance between study and your social life can be difficult in the first months of your university experience. College provides support to ensure that your time at Uni is as productive as it is enjoyable. Student support includes:

- Academic support: Academic mentors (or tutors) are senior students who commit additional time to guiding academic progress of the College residents. These senior students have consistently shown a high level of achievement during their own studies and will be able to help you with understanding assessment requirements, tutorial questions and general content help throughout your time at Uni.
- Personal support: The combined challenges of finding your feet in a new location, making new friends and keeping pace with assignments, can be difficult to juggle. UNE Colleges provide the support you need to make this transition easier, to manage your priorities and to help you have fun at the same time.

For more information contact the university or check out their website.

University of Southern Queensland

Adjustment factors pathway

Adjustment factors may increase your selection rank through the allocation of additional points in certain circumstances such as where you live and subjects you passed at school. UniSQ give a total of 10 adjustment factors across their pathway schemes. You do not have to apply for these adjustment factors as they are automatically applied by QTAC when your application is assessed. It is good to know if you are eligible for any adjustment factors as this may influence your QTAC course preferencing. Click here for more information including:
