Something to think about

“Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for it today.” — Malcolm X

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Financial support for apprentices in priority occupations

Not sure if you can afford to take up an apprenticeship? Want to know what skills and qualifications are in high demand and the extra support you could receive if you train in a priority occupation. Click here to find out:

- What is a priority occupation?
- Financial support for apprentices working in priority occupations
- When should I claim?
- Extra support

Free apprenticeships for under 25s

The Queensland Government is supporting young Queenslanders up to the age of 25 by providing access to fully subsidised training across more than 130 priority apprenticeship and traineeship qualifications. Free apprenticeships for under 25s cover the cost of training for apprentices and trainees who commence or are undertaking a priority apprenticeship or traineeship qualification from 1 July 2019 to 31 December 2024. Click here for more information.

Queensland Skills Gateway

The Queensland Government's Department of Employment, Small Business and Training's website Queensland Skills Gateway has information on:

- "I want to be a ..." - information on occupations and industries
- "Am I eligible ..." - check if you are eligible for government subsidised training
- Find a training provider
- Quick links

Check it out so you can gain more insight into opportunities after Year 12.

Tradies and thrillseekers called on to go to Antarctica

Think outside the traditional Tradies box! Tradies and thrillseekers called on by the Australian Antarctic division to live and work in one of the world's most extreme environment. Click here to watch a short video discussing 'tradie jobs' in the Antarctic.

WorkSafe Queensland website

The Queensland Government's WorkSafe website has valuable information regarding workplace health and safety including:

- safety and prevention
- claims and insurance
- rehabilitation and return to work
- licensing and registrations
- laws and compliance
- industry and resource information.

As a responsible member of any workplace, it is your responsibility to know the Workplace Health and Safety requirements to ensure you and your co-workers remain safe at all times when carrying out your work duties. "But I didn't know" is no excuse.

Think about joining the Australian Air Force Cadets (AAFC)

The AAFC is an inclusive youth development organisation that focuses on developing youth to fulfill their potential by providing training and experiences that enable them to be better off because of their experiences with the AAFC. From this, the following specific aims have been developed:

- To give cadets a foundation of Royal Australian Air Force (RAAF) knowledge and discipline
- To develop qualities of leadership, self-reliance and initiative
- To develop character and good citizenship in the widest sense
- To develop an interest in the RAAF and aviation generally
- To instill a knowledge of aviation history
- To encourage cadets to continue an active interest in aviation into their adult life.

Click on the links below to find out more information about:

- What we do

Thinking of applying to the Australian Defence Force Academy (ADFA)

If you are in Year 11 and considering applying for a place at ADFA, you are encouraged to commence your application when you turn 16 years of age. To start your application, call 13 19 01 or apply online on the Defence Jobs website (click 'Apply now' found on the very top navigation bar on the home page). It is not too late for Year 12 students to apply but you need to start your application as soon as possible.

Career Exploration

A Bachelor of Arts - The places it can take you!

Bachelor of Arts degrees have an undeserved reputation for representing a sort of career sacrifice: sure you'll broaden your mind with challenging ideas, but you won't pick up vocational skills in the same way that, say, a commerce or law student might. But is this true? The truth is that roughly 66 per cent of Australian employed graduates hold a Bachelor of Arts degree — including a majority of workers at the 100 largest public companies. Click here to read a Sydney University article that focuses on Arts, where it can take you and success stories from people who have made their way in the world with an Arts Degree.

Air Traffic Controller

Air Traffic Controllers ensure the safe and efficient movement of aircraft in controlled airspace and aerodromes by directing aircraft movements. Day-to-day they:

- control aircraft movements and direct aircraft taxiing, take-offs and landings by radio
- provide pre-flight briefings and aeronautical information services.

Click here to find out more including how to become an air traffic controller, skills employers are looking for and more.

Are you ready to find Your Career?

On the Australian Government website Your Career you can take a quick quiz to find study, training or job options that support your current career ideas or goals. On the site you can find information about:

- Are you ready to find your career (click on Explore Occupations)
- Leaving school and not sure what's next
- Search VET study options

Careers with STEM Job Kits

The Careers with STEM Job Kits are free downloadable 8-page e-mags which offer a complete introduction to individual STEM careers. Discover what a specific STEM job is all about, meet real people working in that job and find out what you can do right now to set your career on the right path. Click here to read about 12 different STEM areas.

Open Colleges career quiz - Personality test

The Open Colleges Career Quiz is designed to give you an understanding of your personality and the career areas that you would be best suited to. The quiz gives you suggestions for what career areas you might like. The Open Colleges Careers Advice site provides information on salary expectations, employment outlooks, typical hours, etc. Always remember that career quizzes are only a guide and won't give you a concrete answer as to what you should do, but they will give you some new career options to research.

School Leavers' Support for 15 to 24 year olds

Not sure what you want to do when you leave school and would like to talk with a career person? If you are between the age of 15-24 you are eligible for a free one-on-one, 45-minute career guidance session with a qualified career practitioner through the School Leavers Information Service. You can discuss any questions you may have and plan your next steps around study, upskilling or entering the workforce after school. To find out more visit yourcareer.gov.au/schoolleaver, call 1800 227 337 and/or SMS SLIS2022 to 0429 009 435.

2024 International Film Challenge

Australian Teachers of Media (ATOM) and the Rubbish Film Festival invites Years 10–12 students to take part in a competition that encourages them to harness the potential of their mobile devices to create films no longer than sixty seconds, with a dedicated focus on the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). This year's festival theme revolves around two key SDGs:

SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: Explore responsible consumption and production practices. Advocate for more sustainable lifestyles and the reduction of waste in your films.

SDG 13: Climate Action: Address the pressing issue of climate change and its impact on our planet. Explore solutions, raise awareness, and inspire action to combat climate-related challenges.

Entries close on 19 April and click here for more competition details and entry information.

BlueShift Competition 2024 reminder

QUT are hosting BlueShift, a business case competition for Years 10, 11 and 12 students. You compete in teams of three or four to analyse and develop real business solutions for a real business' challenge, then prepare a written solution addressing the business case. Teams with the best submissions present their ideas to a panel of judges at the BlueShift finals held at QUT's Gardens Point campus on Saturday 18 May 2024. Registrations close on 27 February so click here for more information and registration details.

- Mocktail Film Awards 2024
- Monologue Competition 2024
- Canvas Art Competition 2024

Opti-Minds Creative sustainability Challenge

In a world where the 'facts' change daily – we need to change our thinking! Opti-MINDS IS the PROCESS of CHANGE...The opportunity to Opti-MISE your thinking for Opti-MUM performance!

Opti-MINDS is a process of PREVENTION – rather than damage control it instils a proactive mindset of:

- Capability – “Can Do!”;
- Responsibility – “If not me – then who?”;
- Creativity & Innovation;
- Unashamed EXCELLENCE, within participants; encouraging them to REALISE their own capacity and responsibility to ‘MAKE the DIFFERENCE’ for themselves – & to come from an “IF NOT, WHY NOT?” stance.

Registration for the 2024 must be in by June 14th 2024. Teams may only be nominated between the 8th & 17th July – AFTER the Challenges have been read. Click here for more information and see your Guidance Officer/School Counsellor if you have a team who would like to compete.

Upcoming Competitions

How Gen Z look for work - TikTok?

Australia's youngest workers appear to be leading the charge in a major change in how some industries are recruiting staff. It comes as a study reveals young job hunters face many barriers when applying for and securing jobs. So, is TikTok the answer? Click here to read Ash Cant's article outlining the research.

How To Choose The Right Casual Job In High School

Working during high school gives you a level of confidence and people skills that you usually can't find anywhere else but you have to find the job that's right for you. With endless options, it can be hard figuring out which path you want to go down. Click here to read year 13's 12 suggested options to kick start your search.

How and where will you be working?

There is a tug-of-war between employers and employees that looks likely to continue into 2024, with working from home being the key battleground. Seek job ads data shows 10 per cent of all ads on their job search engine, indicate the role can be done from home, either fully or as part of a hybrid arrangement. Click here to read about the changing job market and where you might be actually working in the future.

How to use labour market information

Australian jobs are constantly changing as new technologies are introduced and businesses find innovative ways of working. These changes lead to the creation of new jobs and the need for different skills in existing jobs. So how can you understand the changing world of work and identify big picture trends that are shaping the workforce? By using labour market information. myfuture has published a useful article explaining more fully and in everyday language, what the labour market is, along with key questions you probably want answers to, including:

- Will I need to move?
- Will I need to participate in further study?
- Will I be able to earn enough money?
- Will I be able to find the hours I want to work?
- Is this a large or small employing occupation?
- Has the number of workers been growing or falling?
- How does the unemployment rate compare to other occupations?
- Are employers having trouble finding workers with the right skills for their job vacancies?

You will also find information on:

Networking - Time to start

“Networking, now?” I hear you say. Networking is a valuable tool in your personal, educational and professional world. Networking isn't about getting to know people, not becoming first best friends, but developing social and professional relationships with them. With a high percentage of jobs not advertised through traditional job marketing channels, talking with people you know, ‘networking’, can often provide you with job opportunities that you never dreamed of. How to network when still at school? Smart thinkers and planners start networking early no matter what pathway you are planning on after school. Build a positive and professional relationship with your parents' friends, friends' parents, coaches, teachers, co-workers at work etc. Become comfortable talking with them about your career goals, study options and career aspirations. Start researching especially establishing a LinkedIn account. You just never know who knows who knows who!

Specific occupational information - Defence jobs and engineering

Great career decisions are made when you do your research! The following links provide valuable information:

Defence jobs - Australian Defence Force Jobs

Engineering - Engineers Australia

The future is clean.

You could consider a career in clean energy. Clean energy is sometimes referred to as 'green', 'new' or 'renewable' energy. It comes from natural resources that are constantly replaced and never run out. There are many clean energy sources and technologies such as:

- solar
- wind
- hydroelectricity
- hydrogen
- geothermal and bioenergy

Clean energy can include:

- Generation, storage, transmission and distribution of the energy we use through the design, construction and operation of clean energy infrastructure.
- Management and efficiency of how energy is used.
- Installation and maintenance of the clean energy technology.

Within these areas, there are many occupations you can explore depending on your skills and interests. Explore some occupations below. Click here for more information about the clean energy industry.

Where do we need to be in 2027?

Australia will need to fill more than one million new jobs by November 2026. In 2021, the National Skills Commission forecast employment growth in regional Australia would account for around one-quarter of new jobs over the five years to November 2025. Nine out of ten jobs are projected to require post-secondary school qualifications. Given the expected strong demand for workers and resilience of the Australian labour market, full employment is within reach. Click here to read the Department of Employment and Workplace Relations advice including:

- Australia will need to fill more than one million new jobs over the next five years - Projected employment change by industry, five years to Nov-26
- Nine out of every ten new jobs will need post-school qualifications - Projected employment change by skill level, five years to November -26

Financial Assistance & Scholarships

Griffith Uni scholarships and awards

It's never too early to start to put together your scholarship applications. They take time and thought so don't leave it to the last minute and start at the end of the year! Busting the myths about selection ranks

A selection rank is the rank required for eligibility for entry into a particular course of study. The selection rank is determined by using an applicant's ATAR, qualifications and other adjustment factors. Click here to access a flowchart that summarises how selection ranks are determined. QTAC also identifies some of the most common questions, with answers, that they get about the selection rank process including:

- MYTH #1 The ATAR is your selection rank
- MYTH #2 Rank adjustments are added to your ATAR to increase your ATAR
- MYTH #3 All institutions use the same criteria to calculate your selection rank
- MYTH #4 The selection rank for a course is always the same every year
- MYTH #5 If you do a VET subject you automatically get a certain selection rank
- MYTH #6 Only year 12 applicants can use VET for their selection rank

Certificates, Diplomas and Bachelor Degrees – How are they different?

In Australia, we have a national system of qualifications called the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). At the end of Year 12, you can apply for the following AQF qualifications which can differ in length, content, delivery and competitiveness as shown below:

- Bachelor Degree: Usually 3-5 years full-time (or part-time equivalent); theoretical; competitive
- Associate degree/Advanced diploma: Usually 2 years full-time (or part-time equivalent); combination of theory and practice; range from not competitive to very competitive.
- Diploma: Can be 1-2 years full-time (or part-time equivalent); tend to be practical with some theory; range from not competitive to very competitive depending on the topic.
- Certificates I, II, III, IV: 1 month - 1 year full-time; usually very practical; usually not competitive.

You can use one level to help you gain entry to a higher level of study in the future depending on your results and the rules of the institution you want to gain entry to. Visit the AQF website for more information. To decide on the best level of qualification for you, consider:

- The study/training requirements of the job you want
- Your past study results
- Whether you are a hands-on (practical) or a theory person
- Your commitment to study
- The cost of the course
- The length of time you are prepared to study

A high school senior on stress, career advice and what comes next

Senior year of high school can be an exciting yet overwhelming time. The weight of the future is ever-present as students grapple with the question of what to do after Grade 12. College or a gap year? University or an apprenticeship? It can feel like pressure is coming from all directions – parental expectations, teacher guidance, personal dreams and the inevitable comparisons to peers. Click here to read or listen to Arianna Chau's thoughts and senior school experiences. Although Arianna is in Canada, the information is also relevant for the Australian scenario.

Taking care of yourself

Take action and check in on yourself today. Reach out to someone in your 'village' you trust, tell them what's going on for you right now. Having the courage to be vulnerable is all part of building mental fitness. (#mentalfitness)

Pathways to UQ

If your entry score/ATAR doesn't end up what you hoped for, or if you don't meet a program's subject prerequisites, UQ offer a range of pathways to help you on your way. The best pathway for you will depend on your previous study and the entry requirements you need to meet. Click here and read how to:

- Meet subject prerequisites

- Increase your selection rank
- Meet subject prerequisites and increase your selection rank

Rural Access Scheme

If you've lived in an Australian rural area, UQs Rural Access Scheme may help boost your selection rank for entry into some programs. Rural areas of Australia often have restricted or limited access to educational opportunities, resources and health services compared with those available in cities or larger towns. To help address these challenges, UQ Rural Access Scheme provides eligible applicants with 2 adjustments to help boost their selection rank for entry into all undergraduate programs.

This scheme includes the Doctor of Medicine (Provisional Entry). If you're applying for the Doctor of Medicine Provisional Entry pathway, you must submit your Rural Access Scheme cover sheet and supporting documentation by 30 September. You will then also be considered for the Rural Background Sub-quota.

If you're eligible for adjustments, your entry score will be converted to a QTAC selection rank and any adjustments will be added onto this rank. Each adjustment is equivalent to 1 rank. Note: You still have to meet all entry requirements for each program you apply for. Click here for more information including who is eligible, how to apply and supporting documentation.
